I have also for my own profit and entertainment, done much towards another great work, which I call the Harmony of the old and new Testaments in three Parts -- The first considering the prophecies of the Messiah, his Redemption and Kingdom; the Evidences of their References to the Messiah &c. comparing them all one with another, demonstrating their agreement and true scope and sense; also considering all the various particulars wherein these prophecies have their exact fulfilment; shewing the universal, precise, and admirable correspondence between predictions and events. The second Part: Considering the Types of the old testament, shewing the evidence of their being intended as representations of the great things of the gospel of Christ: and the agreement of the type with the antitype. --- The third and great Part, considering the harmony of the old and new testament, as to doctrine and precept. ------ In the course of this work, I find there will be occasion for an explanation of a very great part of the holy scripture; which may, in such a view be explained in a method, which to me seems the most entertaining and profitable, best tending to lead the mind to a view of the true spirit, design, life and soul of the scriptures, as well as to their proper use and improvement.

-Letter to Trustees of College of New Jersey, Oct. 19, 1757
“...first considering the prophecies of the Messiah, his Redemption and Kingdom...”

“Prophecies of the Messiah”
(“Miscellanies” nos. 891, 922, 1067)

101 distinct sections, each considering a Biblical text or theme
“...first considering the prophecies of the Messiah, his Redemption and Kingdom...”

JE compiled a Table to “Prophecies of the Messiah” by section number and Scripture text.
“...first considering the prophecies of the Messiah, his Redemption and Kingdom...”

“The Fulfillment of the Prophecies of the Messiah”
(“Miscellanies” no. 1068), 181 sections
“...first considering the prophecies of the Messiah, his Redemption and Kingdom...”

As with “Prophecies,” JE made a Table to “Fulfillment” as well
“...first considering the prophecies of the Messiah, his Redemption and Kingdom...”

“Scripture Prophecies of the Old Testament,” a continuation of “Prophecies of the Messiah” during the Stockbridge period.
“...The second Part: Considering the Types of the old testament, shewing the evidence of their being intended as representations of the great things of the gospel of Christ: and the agreement of the type with the antitype...”

“Miscellaneaus” no. 1069,
“That the Things of the Old Testament are Types of Things Appertaining to the Messiah & His Kingdom and Salvation, made Manifest from the Old Testament Itself”
(“Types of the Messiah”
“...The second Part: Considering the Types of the old testament, shewing the evidence of their being intended as representations of the great things of the gospel of Christ: and the agreement of the type with the antitype...”
“...The second Part: Considering the Types of the old testament, shewing the evidence of their being intended as representations of the great things of the gospel of Christ: and the agreement of the type with the antitype...”

For indeed the whole outward creation, which is but the shadows of beings, is so made as to represent spiritual things. It might be demonstrated by the wonderful agreement in thousands of things, much of the same kind as is between the types of the Old Testament and their antitypes, and by spiritual things being so often and continually compared with them in the Word of God. And it’s agreeable to God’s wisdom that it should be so, that the inferior and shadowy parts of his works should be made to represent those things that are more real and excellent, spiritual and divine, to represent the things that immediately concern himself and the highest parts of his work.

-”Miscellanies” no. 362

“I believe the whole universe . . . to be full of images of divine things, as full as a language is of words; . . . and that there is room for persons to be learning more and more of this language, and seeing more of that which is declared in it to the end of the world, without discovering all.”

-”Types” Notebook
“...The third and great Part, considering the harmony of the old and new testament, as to doctrine and precept...”

This notebook includes

Genesis-Psalms
“...The third and great Part, considering the harmony of the old and new testament, as to doctrine and precept...”

After beginning thematically, JE switches to canonical format (cf. earlier notebooks), relating passages to “doctrines, Precepts, etc.” of Christianity
Further Reading:
